Simplifying TEE

The course is intended to provide basic echocardiography for the novice and interested personnel and to initiate an activity to provide formal education in echocardiography in perioperative setting.

It involves hands-on, Simulation use all making you more confident about echocardiographic examination of heart. The layout will focus on basic knowledge and it's relevant application in day to day practice. This would ensure that a comprehensive examination can be done routinely and further skills can be achieved using the knowledge gained.
